

Journal of Global Media Studies

Guidelines for Submission

Revised on 10 March, 2017

1. Who Can Contribute: Members of the Faculty of Global Media Studies, Komazawa University, both tenured and adjunct, including any combination of authors so long as the lead author is either tenured or adjunct at the faculty, and others invited to contribute to the Journal of Global Media Studies (hereafter Journal), regardless of academic affiliation.
2. Language: Japanese or English
3. Copyright: Copyrights for articles published in the Journal belong to the Faculty of Global Media Studies.
4. Permission to Reprint: Authors wishing to reprint articles from the Journal must receive permission prior to doing so from the Faculty of Global Media Studies and are required to cite the Journal.
5. Length: Around 6,000 words (in English) and 15 pages, including all endnotes, tables, figures, and illustrations.
6. Manuscript: The manuscript must include the following.
 - a. Title
 - b. Names of all authors and their affiliations
 - c. Abstract (approximately 300 words)
 - d. Keywords (no more than five)
 - e. Body of the article
 - f. Footnotes
 - g. Citations: In the body of the article, citations are denoted by author and year. The endnotes include the following bibliographic information:
 - i. Journal article: author(s), year, article title, journal title, volume, issue, page(s).
 - ii. Book: author(s), year, title, place (city), publisher.
 - iii. Chapter in an edited book: author(s), year, chapter title, editor, book title, page(s), place (city), publisher.
7. Submission: An MS Word file of the manuscript must be sent to the faculty's editorial committee.
8. Remuneration: No remuneration will be made. However, thirty reprints will be provided to the author free of charge.
9. Return of Materials: No manuscripts or accompanying material will be returned.